found as we we-re wal - king we were friends you and I.

I've seen the dark clouds gathering and the rain come crashing down
 The road ahead so dark and cold, the path so hard to find,
 But we stood strong together arm in arm and side by side
 And we knew that we could make it, we were friends you and I.

My love ones, they grew old and tired and one by one have gone.
 It left me feeling desolate, and oh so much alone
 You stood and watched so helplessly as I could only cry
 But you were always with me, we were friends you and I.

So now the sun begins to set and the evening air grows cold
 We sit out in the fading light, swapping memories of old.
 We share a drink, a song or two, and a story by and by
 And we know beyond all knowing, we are friends you and I.
